The Power of Human Mind and Consciousness

The most important laws of hermetic philosophy and quantum physics, explained for everyday use.

Quantum physics, hermetic philosophy and psychology, unified in a new consciousness.

What if there were a possibility of combining the pieces of wisdom of the various paths of knowledge and thereby draw more profound and integral teachings than anything known in this field until now?

The term Quantum Heart stands for a reawakening, in which quantum physics offers scientific evidence for the seven hermetic principles, considered to be a jewel of self-discovery and personal development.

This inevitable shift in perspective towards unity and awareness going hand in hand with the multitude of findings within the process of gaining consciousness and development, includes healing, as well as fascinating aspects, that will accompany, inspire, even surprise any seeker.

Like the seven cosmic laws, they are in accordance with the ancient truths, and they come together in a new psychology of compassion, mindfulness and responsibility for the human being and his environment. Ties in on the shelf with Schache, "The Secret Behind the Heart Magnet" and Kinslow, "Quantum Entrainment".

Céline Kever, clinical psychologist and research assistant at the University of Liège, Belgium is equally at home in science, psychology and spirituality, with the aim of mutual impregnation. She holds lectures and seminars all over Europe.
